WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—(AP)—A meeting of ambassadors of countries negotiating a North Atlantic defense alliance was called today in the midst of American discussions with Norway about the proposed pact.

The state department announced a meeting with the North Atlantic powers—Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—would be held in the afternoon.

Nothing was said as to the purpose, but it was believed Secretary of State Acheson wanted to discuss the questions submitted by Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard M. Lange at a conference yesterday.

Lange is here for discussions designed to determine, in effect, the price of admission for Norway into the North Atlantic security alliance.

Pressure Is On
Russia has been exerting pressure on Norway not to enter the alliance.

The Norwegian government delegation, it was learned, has questioned the State department about what protection, if any, Norway could expect while it is considering and negotiating membership in the alliance.

The meeting of the ambassadors of the western nations is the first since Acheson became Secretary of State last month.

After talking with Acheson for 32 minutes, Lange and his assistants went into a two and one-half hour conference with top officials who are actually negotiating the alliance.

Lange came to Washington to inquire personally what obligations Norway would have to assume in order to join the defense arrangement.

AWARD CONTRACT ON RADIO SYSTEM

Columbiana county commissioners yesterday awarded a contract for the purchase and installation of a two-way police radio for the sheriff's department to the Motorola Inc. of Chicago, on a bid of $3,725.15.

The set includes a remote control unit for use in the sheriff's office, and four mobile units with which to equip deputies' cars.

Work on the installation is expected to begin immediately, and the transmitter tower will be erected on a plot on the Charles Riddle farm just north of Lisbon on the Salem road, donated by Mr. Riddle for the purpose.

Commissioners also approved at their meeting Monday, a proposal by Dr. B. M. McGuire, county health commissioner for the establishment of a county-wide tuberculosis clinic in the new health board offices on E. Washington st.

The clinic, which would replace clinics held in the various cities and consolidate all in the one office, with examinations and treatments conducted here at least once a week by a physician specializing in tuberculosis care and treatment.

Armed Services Prep For Largest Amphibious Maneuvers Since War

TOP MAP shows location of Vieques Island in the Caribbean, which a Joint Expeditionary Force of Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps and Royal Canadian Army units will "attack" in the largest maneuvers held since the end of the war. Participating in the exercises, from Feb. 14 to April 1, will be about 100 ships and 35,000 men, including the Second Task Fleet of the Atlantic Fleet. In this are the battleship Missouri, cruisers, destroyers, aircraft carriers, submarines and a wide variety of auxiliary craft. D-Day for the Vieques assault is March 2. LOWER MAP is a close-up of the island, showing the two beaches where the amphibious forces will land. Stiff "enemy" submarine and aircraft opposition will be stationed in the area to ward off the attack. Adm. W. H. P. Blandy, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet and the Second Task Fleet, will be in overall command of the maneuvers. The Second Task Fleet will be headed by Vice Adm. Donald B. Duncan. Rear Adm. Jerauld D. Wright will command the Joint Expeditionary Force.

HAYS ASKS RECIPROCAL
TRADE ACT LIMITATION

BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—(AP)—Rep. Wayne Hays of the Ohio 18th Ohio congressional district said today he will propose that no new Reciprocal Trade agreements be drafted with nations under the Communist yoke.

Hays told a reporter he plans to offer the proposal as an amendment to administration legislation before the house extending the Reciprocal Trade law and wiping out restrictions voted last year by the Republican 80th congress.

Hays said he has two reasons for his plan:

1. To prevent American dollars from being "siphoned into Russia" from Soviet satellite countries for eventual use elsewhere in financing espionage and propaganda.

2. To bar increased imports from nations like Czechoslovakia, which might send considerable amounts of glassware and pottery to this country in competition with parallel American industries.

Hays said his congressional district in Ohio is heavily represented

9 Arrests Made
By State Patrol

Nine arrests for traffic violations and accompanying fines were reported today by the state highway patrol.

Joseph F. Snelvel, 67, of East Rochester was fined $10 and costs by Judge William Unger of Sebring for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Clyde J. Felton, 36, of Alliance was fined $10 and costs by Unger for driving an unsafe vehicle.

Edward R. Hardy, 24, of 392 S. Ellsworth ave. was fined $20 and costs by Unger for speeding.

Dominic Frank, 37, of Sebring was fined $20 and costs by Unger for speeding.

Lester E. Smith, 23, of Lisbon was fined $15 and costs by Mayor R. R. Johnson for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Anthony Silveroli, 45, of Buffalo, N. Y., forfeited a $10 bond to Johnson after being arrested for speeding.

Frank H. Brown, 65, of Kensington was fined $5 and costs by Justice Felix Butch of Lisbon for a stop sign violation.

Virginia Silvolutz, 21, of Youngstown was fined $5 and costs by Butch for having no driver's license. Robert Schultz, 20, of Youngstown was fined $5 and costs by Butch for permitting an unlicensed person to drive.

in the glassware and pottery field. If his "anti-Communist" amendment fails, Hays added, he intends to support other proposals aimed at giving specific protection to makers of glassware, pottery, watches and certain other products.

"If any of those amendments succeed, I will find it possible to support the administration's bill," said Hays. "But if they all fail, I will have to vote against it. And I know several other Democrats who feel much the same about the measure."

DELAY TEST VOTE
ON FERGUSON ACT
REPEAL MEASURE

BY REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, Feb. 8—(AP)—House Democrats sought today to delay a test of strength on a labor-backed bill to repeal the Ferguson act which bans strikes by government workers.

Majority Leader A. G. Landone (D-Idaho) called a caucus to decide whether Democrats will try to return the measure to the house labor committee.

House Republican Leader C. William O'Neill of Marietta had a different plan. "I can see no reason to delay a vote on the floor," he told newsmen.

He announced previously that Republicans would oppose repeal of the act.

Will Not Oppose

O'Neill said he will not oppose motions to postpone indefinitely or to table the repealer. Approval of such motions would have the effect of killing the proposal.

Landone said the bill should be returned to committee to provide time for consideration of a method to arbitrate grievances of public employees.

Whether Democrats could muster the majority vote needed to recommend the bill to committee was as doubtful as their ability to pass it on the floor. Some of them have indicated they will join Republicans in opposing repeal.

The repealer was rushed out of committee after only two hearings on consecutive nights. So anxious was one member to recommend passage that he attempted to limit testimony of Sen. David McK. Ferguson (R-Guernsey), author of the act passed two years ago.

One Republican joined eight Democrats in voting the bill out of committee. Five Republicans voted no. One Democratic member was absent.

Plans to create a calendar committee at last night's house session to take charge of the bill were abandoned. A calendar committee would have been empowered to decide when the measure came to a floor vote.

WILL ALLOW UNITS

Control Opens In Ohio
Rubber Center

AKRON, Feb. 8—(AP)—A group of Akron landlords, claiming there is no serious housing shortage here, plans to let their rental units become vacant. They are protesting rent controls.

As tenants move out, the units will be allowed to stand empty. The addresses will be listed on a downtown billboard as an indication of housing space being withheld from the market.

Approximately 300 persons attended a meeting last night, sponsored by the Summit County Rental and Home Owners League. This organization claims a membership of about 1,000, controlling about 1,600 units.

Go Off Market

About 70 rental units already are off the market, those attending the session in West High school auditorium reported.

E. L. Marting, Sr., former city councilman, presided. When one member said from the floor that "if rent controls were lifted, there would be no shortage here within 90 days," Marting commented:

"I believe it would take six months."

The landlords approved sending a telegram to President Truman, advising him their properties would be allowed to become vacant until rent controls are lifted and that the billboard would list the addresses.

One member, George McCane, said that normally about 100 vacancies occur in this area each month, so that properties soon would become empty without the landlords resorting to evictions.

William Link, vice president of the league, said "if the CIO wants its wages increased, the union strikes. It is about time for landlords to do likewise."

Return Body of
James L. Yarian

The body of Motor Machinist Mate Third Class James Lavell Yarian, 35, of Salem, who was killed in a truck accident on Samar, in the South Pacific, Nov. 2, 1948, is expected to arrive in East Palestine Thursday, his wife, Mrs. Agnes O. Yarian of Washington ave. has been advised.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. James Alvin Yarian of New Waterford, he was born and reared in that village. Employed by the Ohio Edison Co. for 14 years, he had lived in Salem 11 years of that period. He was a member of Emmanuel Lutheran church.

Entering the Navy March 10, 1944, he served on an LST boat. Besides his wife, and parents, he is survived by one daughter, Jean Louise, of Washington ave., and two brothers, Walter of Salem and John of New Waterford.

Funeral arrangements will be announced Wednesday.

BOARD MAPS REILLY
SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION

The board of education went over preliminary plans for the Reilly school 12-room addition at its meeting Monday night in the High school. Bids on the project, the next-to-last step in the school building program, will be advertised for April 1.

Board members spent some time with Architect Paul Boucherle, who explained the plans. Estimates on the cost of the new building were not made, however.

Both the Reilly addition and the Fourth Street school annex are part of the $560,000 bond issue program approved by Salem voters in November.

Boucherle's contract with the board, which covered only the $750,000 bond issue passed in 1946, was renewed last night to cover the latest bond issue.

The board announced the sale of the Weaver house at 549 Reilly ave., the site of the new addition. It was purchased by H. O. Hutcheson and is to be moved to another location. The northern-most house on the street, the Miller home at 545 Reilly ave., was purchased some time ago by James Alaback and also is to be moved.

Plans for the Reilly addition call for a 50-foot grass court between the new and old parts of the building, which will extend the structure almost halfway toward Franklin st. to the south.

Supt. E. S. Kerr reported that the plastering is completed at the Prospect school addition and that workmen are now laying floors. That building will be ready for occupancy next fall.

Kerr was granted permission by the board to attend the regional conference of the American Association of School Administrators in St. Louis, Feb. 27 to March 4.

Hungarian Church
Leader, Six Aides
Guilty of Treason

BY ENDRE MARTON
BUDAPEST, Hungary, Feb. 8—(AP)—The Hungarian people's court today convicted Josef Cardinal Mindszenty of treason and sentenced him to life imprisonment.

The 56-year-old primate of this predominantly Catholic country also was found guilty of trying to overthrow the Communist government and of speculating in foreign currency. The court rejected Prosecutor Gyula Elapi's demand for a death sentence, but ordered the confiscation of the Cardinal's possessions.

All six of the Cardinal's co-defendants were convicted, three of them on the treason charge. Their sentences ranged from three years to life.

The sentences and the charges on which the court convicted them:

Duke Paul Esterhazy, richest man in pre-war Hungary, 15 years; trying to overthrow the government and foreign exchange speculation.

Rev. Ondras Zakar, the Cardinal's young secretary, six years; trying to overthrow the government and treason.

Rev. Miklos Nagy, secretary of the lay organization, Catholic Action, three years; foreign money speculation and failing to inform the government of crimes.

Rev. Bela Ispenky, Father Nagy's secretary, life imprisonment; treason and foreign currency speculation.

Prof. Justin Baranyay, professor of church law at Budapest university, 15 years; trying to overthrow the government.

Laszlo Toth, former editor of the Catholic paper Nemzeti, 10 years; treason.

The court ordered that all the co-defendants be deprived of their jobs, fortunes or political rights.

The sentences were handed down after a swift three-day trial by a five-man court composed of the professional jurist, Vilmos Olthys, and four associates drawn from a workers' panel.

Of the defendants, only Father Zakar did not appeal. Cardinal Mindszenty spoke a loud, clear "yes" when asked if he wanted to appeal to carry the case to a higher court.

Protests Sentences
Prosecutor Elapi protested all but one sentence, that of Father Ispenky. He again demanded the death sentence for Cardinal Mindszenty.

The prosecutor's action made it possible for the appeals court, as well as to reverse the people's court or lighten the penalties.

The appeals court is not obliged to act within 10 days as it would in the case of a death sentence. The life imprisonment sentence made impossible any appeal to the court for a permission to forward a clemency plea to President Arpad Szakasits; this avenue is open only in cases of death sentences.

Judge Olthys said there were three extenuating circumstances in the Cardinal's case: He confessed and expressed regret; he lived far from worldly affairs, and the United States, through its minister here, Selden Chapin, "made him hope that the United States of America would start a war and this war would help him attain his aims."

Aggravating factors, the judge added, were the Cardinal's high station in the church, his high degree of education, and the amazing number of the crimes he committed.

Cardinal Mindszenty is the first to turn to HUNGARIAN, Page 8

Plan Open House
At Buckeye School

Public inspection of the new Buckeye grade school will be held the evening of Feb. 23, Supt. of School E. S. Kerr announced today.

The building, first used by students in December, contains the latest in modern school architectural designs and is the first new school to be completed here since 1928.

In addition to a tour of the building, the public will be invited to attend a program in the school auditorium. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Kath Weigle of East Cleveland, president of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Buckeye school contains six classrooms, a kindergarten, lunch room and an auditorium-gymnasium. In addition to 180 regular students, 30 other children are attending kindergarten classes there.

The school was built by the Sponseller Construction Co.

Check Forger Moves To Alliance; Passes 8 More

The enterprising bogus check passer, who hoodwinked eight Salem and two Lisbon merchants Jan. 28, struck again last week, this time in Alliance.

The checks, this time drawn against the Alliance Clay Products Co. and on the Alliance First National bank were believed to be the work of the same man or men who worked Salem earlier.

Alliance police had recovered eight checks Monday, but estimated that the number could run as high as 20 when all were in. Again, the amounts were identical, all being drawn for either $65.53 or $66.87.

All the checks are numbered and stamped by a check writing machine. They were signed and indorsed in ink. They were passed Friday afternoon after banking hours and did not reach the bank until Monday morning.

Most of the checks were cashed in Alliance bars.

Untangling The Tape

Let it be remembered that on Feb. 7, 1949, a plan for bringing order out of chaos in the federal government was proposed. The commission headed by former President Hoover sent to congress the first of a series of reports on reorganization.

The reports will reflect the best judgement of a large group of citizens who have studied federal organization objectively. Their collective advice is beyond value. They gave it as a public service. Many observers believe it is potentially the most important thing that has happened in Washington for decades. They think the commission's recommendations are the key to the survival of representative democracy. If the key isn't used, they warn, government may become the victim of its own unwieldiness.

The public, meanwhile—having heard about all this—has remained skeptical. It believes the federal government should be reorganized. It has confidence in the commission's ability to make sound recommendations. But it doubts that congress will be able to approve any real plan of reorganization. That's why it should be remembered that the plan was proposed on Feb. 7, 1949. Along about Feb. 7, 1950, someone should ask, "by the way, whatever became of that reorganization plan?"

Stretchable Steel

The most important economic discovery of 1949 may be stretchable steel. The steel industry's trade magazines are reporting that supply is rapidly overtaking demand. The time is in sight when steel salesmen will be going back to work, looking for customers to take up the slack in production.

When that happens, a great many things will be changed in a hurry. Automobile production, for example, will be relieved of a handicap. The "gray market" in steel will disappear, along with the artificially inflated prices which sustained it.

The proposal for putting the national government into the steel business to increase production will be shoved into a pigeonhole in Washington. Steel consumers will have more leeway in running their enterprises.

And it may occur to a good many people who have made a hobby of second-guessing the steel masters that men who have spent a lifetime making steel know more about the business than back-seat drivers who claim to know the ultimate answers to everything.

Red "Justice"

If the Hungarian Communists had been afraid of popular opinion, they never would have brought Josef Cardinal Mindszenty to trial.

They knew, as clearly as the Kremlin itself knew when it staged its purge before World War II, that the outside world never would accept their distorted versions of "justice." But they didn't care. The Kremlin didn't care.

Under the doctrine of absolutism, dictators use the courts in the same way they use all their other powers—to serve themselves. There is no such thing as justice in the abstract. The courts are an implement of politics. And in Hungary it is considered by the Communists to be good politics at this time to make a martyr of a cardinal of the Roman Catholic church.

In the United States, meanwhile, 11 Communists charged with conspiracy to overthrow this government are being tried under a different system. It is possible the defendants may be acquitted. That never was possible in the case of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty. The decision was made before he was brought into court. Otherwise, he would never have been touched. That is political absolutism in practice.

There is no place in it for a difference of opinion. A handful of despots decide what is to be done and how it is to be done. The non-Communist world sympathizes with the latest victim of political depravity—and pities itself for having to deal with a credo that excludes human dignity.

Brass Tacks In A Hurry

Senator Taft has got down to brass tacks in a hurry on Attorney General Clark's opinion that the chief executive can handle strikes endangering the national welfare without any specific laws to help him.

If that is true, Senator Taft says, it's a threat to liberty.

Meanwhile, the attitude of the union spokesmen who want the Taft-Hartley act and its specific authority for presidential action in the event a strike threatens national welfare is worth noting.

They obviously think the attorney general is fooling. If they thought the chief executive really had power to stop strikes without the Taft-Hartley act, they'd be unhappy. And right now they're happy as pigs in clover over the prospect of getting rid of the Taft-Hartley act.

They have good reason to be. Before the Taft-Hartley act they could tie up the country without interference. They could call a coal strike in wartime and get away with it. They could call a railroad strike and get away with it. The only thing Mr. Truman could think of to do about a railroad strike was to ask for authority to draft railroaders into military service. Senator Taft stopped that nonsense. Remembering what almost happened the last time Mr. Truman improved a hasty solution for the problem of a national emergency, he doesn't want to lever liberty in peril again. That isn't the way it's preserved by Americans who value it.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, Feb. 9

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

BY dint of concentrated attack upon a threatened, disintegrating or destructive situation, with a surprising twist of skills, talents and initiative, under stimulus for successful exploitation or recognition, it may be possible to "mend broken fences" by wholehearted and persistent attack.

In this effort well-studied plans, based on application and sagacity, as well as a shrewd insight into basic factors for long-range climax, should avert danger to cherished plans and objectives. Shun erratic moods or fancies.

A similar surprising and shattering event could also devastate romantic, domestic, or other established emotional relations.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may be prepared for a sudden turn of events or the advent of a strange and disintegrating situation that may upset plans, objectives or cherished hopes and wishes. Such might incite to unwelcome change, unfavorable travel, to popular nervous stresses or tensions in which it would be easy to do the wrong thing, or to move with erratic rather than sound programs.

The energies and faculties are under sound creative impetus, and with firm resolution, hard work, skill and initiative, disaster and danger might be sidetracked. Calm analysis of underlying situations, proper evaluation of these, with direct attack upon strange factors, could avert sorrow, loss and disappointment. But eccentric feelings or queer emotions could disturb.

A child born on this day, while ambitious, practical and skillful, could have its progress impeded by strange emotions or odd impulses.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

BY WALTER KIERNAN

It must be conceded Mr. Truman did all he could for Stalin . . . he offered to get the spare room ready and that's more than he did for Dewey.

Incidentally New Yorkers resent Dewey's proposal of 40 per cent higher tax . . . they feel this is too high a penalty tax for not sending him to Washington.

But at least we've got 16 million women gainfully employed in the nation today which means that taxes are being paid in the makeup of some mighty pretty brows.

John Lewis' taxes are up this year . . . like Mr. Truman he was so unfortunate as to get a salary increase.

Mr. Lewis has just been announced as the winner of the December election of the United Mine Workers. It took a little time to count the ballots but the result was never in doubt.

The final vote was Lewis 286,000, public opinion 0.

have an ulcer? What may be the cause?

Answer: It is not clear what is meant by gastric analysis of 34 degrees. I presume you have an excessive amount of acid in the stomach. Such a condition is frequently present in cases of ulcers; however, the excess acidity may come from other causes.

You are in need of a thorough study by your physician to determine just what type of condition is present before proper treatment can be carried out.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th St., New York City.

Camp Dates, Other Events Are Set By Scout Council

Plans for summer camp and for a full program of activities for Columbiana county Boy Scouts have been approved by the executive board.

The 1949 summer camp will be held at the scout reservation starting on June 26th, and will operate for four weeks. A camp director, a cook, and a combination waterfront and activities man will be employed.

Reductions were made in the camp rates over last year, in anticipation of a much larger body of campers, and the number of boys required to establish the special troop rate was reduced. This year the regular campers fees will be $12 for a six day period, and the troop rate will be $9. A minimum of five Scouts with an adult leader approved by the sponsoring institution, will be needed to establish this lower rate. The adult leader will become a part of the camp staff, so that there will be no charge for his board.

Plans were made at a weekend meeting of the Camping and Activities Committee, and were reported by Chairman A. V. Smith for approval.

Volunteer Help Needed
Construction work at camp will be attempted if sufficient volunteer help can be secured. Arnold Lodge, the camp building located near the old Furnace school, will be set on a permanent foundation, a chimney will be constructed, a sink, grease trap, and disposal field will be installed in time to use this building for a dining room for the summer camp if possible.

A visiting day for camp—an open house for parents and interested persons—is tentatively arranged for May 22.

District Camporees are recommended for early in May, each of the four districts to set its own date, and to arrange its own place and leadership.

The Camporee was set for June 10-11-12 at Camp McKinley. A suitable kick-off ceremony for the Crusade to Strengthen the Arm of Liberty, has been left in the hands of the Camping and Activities committee. A co-chairman has been newly appointed to take charge of the Activities and Civic Service functions of this committee.

J. E. Curry will assume these duties and will make his announcement about the type of program selected soon. A. V. Smith will continue as camp chairman, and the same committee will continue with both functions.

Atty. Francis Lang was appointed new chairman of the Organization and Extension committee, the position formerly held by Curry. This committee is responsible for organization new Scout units and is making plans to meet soon with a National Rural Scout leader. The audit report of the council was approved as presented by Finance Chairman J. A. Resney. Reports were received from each district. The meeting closed with the singing of the hymn, "The Years Between."

R. J. Berrow, council president, was in charge of the meeting.

LEETONIA BOARD DISCUSSES WATER PUMP PROBLEM

LEETONIA, Feb. 8.—At the Board of Public Affairs meeting last night the two items that held the most interest during the business session were the proposed acquisition of a new, larger village water pump and the complaint of William Frederick who fell into an open sewage-filled hole about midnight Saturday night.

The new pump would pump 750 gallons of water per minute. The one now in use handles 150 gallons per minute. Board members expressed the concern of local plants and townships. The consensus is that in case of a large fire the reservoir would be drained, thus hindering the fire-fighters. Water pressure throughout the village would drop rapidly in case of a large fire, according to opinions expressed last night.

An insurance company official was present at the meeting and urged the purchase of the larger pump. Further discussion will be held at the next board meeting, with the village engineer expected to be present.

William Frederick, 72, was found in a seven-foot-deep-filled excavation. He had been walking along State st. It was dug almost three weeks ago when a sewage line had stopped up.

Raymond Leonard of 328 State st. heard Frederick's call for help and summoned police who pulled him out.

They said he had braced his arms on a small ledge which kept his head above the water. The street had been barricaded at either end of the block but only dirt piles were at two sides of the hole and no lights had been placed at that time.

Jailed For Non-Support
Darn Whitacre of Fairfield township was arrested yesterday on charges of non-support. He was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail by Judge Milton Cope.

Scarlet Fever Reported
PAINESVILLE, Feb. 8.—The Lake county board of health has reported five cases of scarlet fever.

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?

If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from its nervous distress. It works this way: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by objective proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of his gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-ones of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Anti-Semitism Remains At High Point In All Germany

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(UP)—An army adviser of Jewish affairs reported today that anti-Semitism "still is deeply rooted" in Germany.

William Haber, adviser to U. S. army commanders in Germany and Austria, said Germans frankly told him Jews would suffer anew if occupation forces were pulled out.

But Haber, in a formal report for 1948, saw no short-term solution for the problem which he said had shown itself in many ways since the Allies entered the country.

He listed desecration of Jewish cemeteries, provocative press articles, holding of Jewish displaced persons "exclusively responsible" for the black market, occasional "blood libel" rumors and "obvious public antagonism against the Jews."

He said many Germans were not anti-Semitic but that most of these just kept quiet on the issue.

Haber agreed with Gen. Lucius D. Clay that outlawing of anti-Semitism is not the solution.

"The eradication of anti-Semitism in Germany must represent the spontaneous inner urge of the German people and must flow from the democratization of Germany," Haber said.

Haber said U. S. officials in both Germany and Austria "have justly earned the undying gratitude of the Jewish displaced persons" in the handling of their problems.

He said most Jewish displaced persons camps in the U. S. zones of Germany and Austria could be closed by June 30, 1950.

Recommendations in Haber's report to Secretary of Army Kenneth C. Royall included:

1. The "strongest" representations by the United States to secure the fullest support of the international refugees organization for resettlement of Jewish displaced persons in Israel.

2. Revision of a clearance requirement which, he said, in effect denies permission to Jewish men of military age, 18 to 45, to go from displaced persons camps in the American zones or Israel.

3. Keeping Jewish displaced persons camps under occupation authorities and not permitting German police to have jurisdiction over them.

4. Making every effort to assure that the proposed western German state will pass a uniform restitution law to give back to Jews their property confiscated by Nazis.

5. Continuance of the U. S. occupation zones as havens of refuge for Jews fleeing from Russian satellite countries.

"Interested-in-YOU" Service

THE philosophy of this Prescription Pharmacy may be summed up in our considered belief that you are the most important person in our world. Your wishes, your needs, your prescription, have our undiverted attention from the moment you pass that fragment of mystic prescription over to our side of the counter. Here you observe in actual daily practice a type of simple, sincere, "Interested-in-YOU" service. It's service that is dedicated to your welfare all the way from the selection and careful compounding of pure ingredients to the final price tag. Yes, admittedly, it is a selfish service which we give. For we know that only by serving you ably and honorably can we hope to build for us an enduring place in this community.

We invite you to test the facilities of this Pharmacy of "Prescription Specialists" in any practical manner. By all means, do ask your Physician about us.

Book Club Papers Are Presented

Five interesting papers composed the program at the Monday afternoon meeting of the Book club in the public library. Forty-five members attended.

Mrs. H. D. Huttenhower, president, officiated.
Mrs. Clyde Dole opened the program with a paper, "Treasurer Hunt For Good Will."
Others were: "Building the Peace," Mrs. Leroy Hartough; "Indian Welfare," Mrs. E. S. Vincent; "Citizenship and Equal Rights," Mrs. Glen Bates; "Great Novels as Amassadors of Peace," Mrs. Reed Calkins.

Robert Tarzan offered a group of solos, "Water Boy," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because." Ben Bailey played the accompaniment.
A committee to nominate officers was appointed, including Mrs. Frank Brudery, chairman; Mrs. Harold Wykoff and Mrs. Charles Wernet. They will give their report at the Feb. 21 meeting.

Methodist Youths

Dine, Hear Talk
Young people of the Methodist Youth Fellowship and their guests from Winona, Lisbon, Columbiana, Camasus and Bunker Hill Methodist churches enjoyed a buffet supper and program Sunday evening in the Salem church.

Women's Society of Christian Service sponsored the supper with Mrs. Russell Moore, Mrs. Orin Naragon, Mrs. H. W. Everett, Mrs. Lester Baldinger, Mrs. A. B. Smith and Mrs. H. V. Bechman in charge. Miss Camille Entriiken presided at the meeting, while welcoming remarks were made by Mrs. T. W. Purviance.

Miss Virginia Clark of Barberton, who made her decision to work for the church during the Barberton ministry of Rev. George Beebe, was introduced as guest speaker by Rev. Beebe.

She challenged the 98 young people to the work of the church, weighing its advantages and disadvantages. Miss Clark leaves shortly to serve as an ordained deaconess, and nurse in an interdenominational hospital in the Dominican Republic. She goes out from the Northeast Ohio conference, under the board of the Women's society. Her topic was "Choosing A Christian Vocation."

Miss Donna Lou Getz led group singing and Miss Kathryn Everett and Mrs. E. K. Barass of Camasus conducted the worship service.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram B. Greiner and daughters, Eva and Ann, of Miami, Fla., are visiting his mother, Mrs. Hiram A. Greiner of S. Lincoln ave.

Pneumonia germs look like strings of minute, pale sausages; influenza germs are blue; and scarlet fever germs resemble ropes of scarlet tinge.

Mrs. Harry O'Keefe has returned to her home on S. Lincoln ave. after a five-week stay in Hollywood, Fla.

Girl Scout Head

Mrs. Eddy

Mrs. Robert Eddy, new president of the Salem Girl Scout council, has been a Girl Scout for three years.

Serving as a leader of Brownie troop 12 and Intermediate troop 4, she was co-leader of Senior troop 7, when elected to the council presidency.

A past president of the Girl Scout Leaders' association, she is a volunteer trainer, having taken a course given by the Warren executive director. Mrs. Eddy also took a special course at National Camp Edith Macy, Pleasantville, N. Y.

Boyle's COLUMN

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—The other day I puffed up to a door about the same time as two young ladies did. Instead of waiting for me to open the door, they giggled and held the door open for me.
My gallantry gone, I followed my stomach in with a sigh. And the next time I saw some scales I put in a penny, and watched the pointer swing around—way around. It quivered to a halt at the 197-pound mark. No wonder those two girls had giggled.
So now it begins all over again—the dreary business of dieting, the leading American pastime.
And what good does it do? In the last 30 months I have been on at least eight separate diets. My weight has varied in that time from a peak of 202 to a low of 178.
EVERY TIME my weight fell I had to go to the tailor and have my suits taken in. Every time I gained the weight back I had to return to the tailor and have the suits let out again.
The last time I saw him he said: "What, you again? Why don't you just buy a suit with rubber seams?" It is wives who cause husbands to go on diets.
"Nobody loves a fat man," they say.
But is that really true? Henry VIII had more wives than he could shake a gullotine at. Napoleon did not lose at Waterloo just because he was plump. Julius Caesar never wanted folks with a lean and hungry look around him. How about Grover Cleveland and William Howard Taft? They won in a fair vote—and they both were fat.
Who was America's most famous beauty? Lillian Russell. And she had an appetite to match her curves. The Turks, noted connoisseurs of feminine charm, always liked their ladies rounded. In most lands to the well-upholstered woman still has an edge over the one who tries to go through life looking like a pogo stick.
But here in the land of plenty the ideal isn't so much the new look as it is "the starved look." I suppose if we get hard times back it then will be fashionable to try to look fat.
Why don't we normally plump people have the courage to grow into sharp nature intended us—and enjoy it? A fat man can go as far in life as a skinny man. Which can you throw farther—a basketball or a toothpick? Yes, and which has more bounce?
DID YOU EVER think of the ominous meaning behind the phrase, "He's had all the starch taken out of him?"
That's what happens to a healthy fat man when he quits eating starches—bread and potatoes. He wilts. A piece of string is slim enough. But can it stand by itself? Who wants to look like a piece of string if somebody has to keep holding him up?
Civilization worships the vitamin. It ridicules the calorie. But anyone with a sense of the finer things of life knows that the calorie is really more fun. It is also more important and tastes better.
You can eat three drugstore capsules and get all the calories you need from three capsules.
No, sir. People take vitamins because they have been told vitamins will make them feel better. But they know darn well if they don't put a good supply of well-chewed calories into their stomach three times a day life isn't going to seem worth living at all.
Some day a bright young man is going to make the calorie appreciated and respectable again. He's going to do it by creating a nice, juicy, crunchy, calorie, rich and flavorful. People will be able to eat as much of anything they like as they wish.
And that young man is going to make more money than Henry Ford.

DEPARTMENT OF CONJECTURE

Surveying, in a somewhat hurried fashion, the field at the Youngstown Class A sectional-district basketball tournament this year, one can't help come up with the thought that it may well be a wide-open affair of not too top-notch calibre.

Teams involved this season, on an over-all basis, of course, are just not up to the par we have seen there in the past four or five straight years. The calibre, as a matter of fact, fell off a little last season and this year it has gone to near rock-bottom.

For instance: There are no unbeaten teams left; there are no teams with gigantic high-scoring as have been seen from Salem, Canton and Warren in recent years; there is no large number of even "very good" basketball teams entered and there are no problems of picking the four best for seeding.

The seeding problem this year—the process of naming the four best teams in the affair and placing them in separate brackets—will be a problem only in the sense of deciding which districts must be represented. It's fairly certain that seeding will be a cut and dried proposition.

For our money the naming would include Girard, Youngstown Chaney, Canton South and Canton McKinley with a possible eye cast the way of Youngstown East, although that team is fairly questionable since mid-term graduation.

From there right on down the line the tummy figures to be a merry tangle with anything liable to happen. And these four, incidentally, are not of the calibre of the four seeded teams in past years. We can well recall when eight or 10 coaches would go to the organization meeting fully hoping and expecting their own teams to be seeded. Not so this year.

On that basis, and especially from the Salem angle, the turnover should be interesting to watch, if not quite as polished as it has been.

This district may end up—it has before in better years—sending a couple of mediocre outfits into the regional. The quality of play will be merely a continuation of a rather "fair" basketball season. It seems the "cycle" they're always telling you about has blanketed this basketball area this year.

The odds are certainly good this season that the state's Class A champion will not be from the Youngstown sectional-district affair. However, stranger things have happened!

DEPT. OF INFORMATION

Perhaps everyone knows it, but it's interesting to report that Salem has been sort of a mecca of college coaches during the past couple of weeks.

The search is on for good football players and the parade of visiting mentors began two weeks ago with a visit here by Wes Fessler, Ohio State coach. Fessler conferred with Ben Barrett regarding several

Defeat Previously Unbeaten United Tool To Hold Firmly To First

Activity was slim in Class A basketball Monday evening at the Memorial building, but it was crucial.

Mullins, the first round champion, did away with its nearest second round competitor, at least momentarily, by thumping the United Tool & Die 46-40 in a rough and highly disputed game.

It was United's first loss in four games. Mullins remains unbeaten this round.

The factory men held to their first place lead in a close, hard-fought game featured by numerous blow-ups at officials. Technicals were assessed on both teams and one Mullins player was ejected from the game by officials.

In the only other tilt last night Damascus won a spine-tingler 35-28 from the Salem China in a contest that saw the lead change practically every time a basket was scored.

In another game booked, but not played, Frosts forfeited to the Saxons club. The two teams engaged in a practice scrimmage.

OHIO STATE WINS ON FLASHY FINAL HALF AT INDIANA

(By The Associated Press)
Ohio State, in a brilliant final-half drive, defeated Indiana 75-59, last night to remain in the race for the Big Nine basketball title.

A capacity home crowd of 5,733 watched the Bucks run up their fifth win against three losses in conference play. It was Indiana's fourth loss in six league starts.

Bob Ralston, junior center, paced Ohio State with 11 field goals and four free throws for 30 points. Gene Melzer, a sub forward, sank five field goals in as many tries and wound up the night with 15 points.

The Bucks grabbed an early lead, but Indiana forged ahead to a 35-28 margin in the final minutes of the first half. Ohio State then went ahead, 36-35. With two seconds left in the half, Jerry Stuteville tied the count at 36-36 with a free throw.

Stuteville and Guard Gene Ring powered the Indiana attack. Stuteville with 20 points, Ring with 14.

In other college games in the state, Western Reserve scored an upset 61-51 win over Western Michigan. Rio Grande ran up a 10-73 victory over Kent State's Canton branch; Ohio University ended an eight-game losing streak with a 57-40 win over Dayton and Xavier university spiked Long Island university 75-51.

At Cleveland, Western Reserve held a 38-27 halftime edge after Forward Jim Cochran scored 19 of his 23 points before intermission. Western Michigan regained the

Unbeaten Holmes County Outfit Functions Without An Official School Coach

COLUMBUS, Feb. 8.—Over in the hills of southeastern Holmes county, snuggled halfway between Berlin and Shanesville on State Route 39, is the little Amish settlement of Walnut Creek.

The village has 153 residents. The high school boasts 14 boys. A dozen are on the basketball team.

And like the famed "Waterloo Wonders" of a decade and a half ago from the "Knobs" of Lawrence county, the Walnut Creek kids are running wild on the hardwoods.

The school couldn't find a coach when the cage season started, so Abe Maas, president of the Sugar-creek Clay Craft Co., teaches the quintet at night. And what a job he's done!

The Cardinals have rolled up 18 victories in a row, amassing 1100 points for a .61 average while holding the opposition to 35 per game. Midvale, the eastern district's Class B champion, was victimized 47-41 on its own floor.

Not one of the kids is over six feet tall, but all are fast and all can hit that bucket. You'll be hearing more of 'em around tournament time.

Walnut Creek is not the only clean-record Class B team, however. Junction City has 21. Lakeview in Logan county has 19. North Baltimore 16 and New Knoxville 13 in a row, while Fredericktown had 20 straight until it ran into a 50-38 setback at the hands of Lima St. Rose over the weekend.

Monroeville, which dropped its opener, has a 15-1 record. Hoaglin-Jackson 15-1, and Ames-Born 17-1. Sabina, which hasn't been beaten on its home floor since 1942, has a 9-3 mark. Records of other clubs which from time to time have made their mark in tournament play include: Mineral Ridge 13-5, Lowellville 12-2, Edison 14-5, North Canton 9-6, Willshire 14-2, Middle Point 10-4, Stryker 15-2, Delphos St. Johns 19-2, Columbiana 11-7, Waynesburg 13-2, Exon 14-2, Olive Branch 14-2, Pickerington 13-3 and Raehle 12-2.

Over in Class A, the defending champion Findlay team—although minus practically all the talent which carried it to the heights—has won 12 and dropped one, an early-season setback by Xenia Central. Of the last 59 games played by Findlay over a three-season span, the Trojans have epped 57.

The other loss was to East Liverpool in the 1947 tournament.

Ever-powerful Middletown skidded to an 11-3 record last week as the Middies dropped a 42-36 game to Portsmouth, first time in 10 years the Trojans have whipped the Butler cougars. The win gave Portsmouth a 10-3 mark.

PRICES DIPPING, BALL SALARIES GO RIGHT WITH THEM

Joe Dimaggio Lands Fat Raise: Will Get $90,000 This Year

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Prices are going down and so are baseball salaries, but Joe Dimaggio, Bobby Feller, Walker Cooper and Ralph Kiner won't go hungry this year.

Dimaggio especially won't have any trouble keeping the wolf from the door. The New York Yankee star, along with Feller, Kiner and Cooper, agreed to terms yesterday. Dimaggio was the only one of the four, however, who admittedly received a raise.

The Yankee Clipper signed a one-year contract which experts believe will net him $90,000. Neither Dimaggio nor Yankee officials would reveal the exact terms.

Dimaggio said it was "by far the best contract I ever had." Yankee President Dan Topping said Dimaggio got a one year contract and a raise.

The signing took place in the Yanks' plush Fifth avenue office—the third session between Dimaggio and the club. Reports had Dimaggio asking for a flat $100,000 document which would have made him the highest-paid player of all time.

Dimaggio's contract is said to call for a base pay of $60,000 plus a series of bonuses based on the club's home gate.

Feller, who agreed to terms offered by Cleveland President Bill Veech Sunday night, will make it official this afternoon in Cleveland by inking the form.

The big righthander has agreed to take at least a $10,000 cut but he won't have to worry about the source of next month's rent.

Feller will receive the same base pay as last year—$40,000—and bonuses based on home attendance. He will start collecting his bonus money when the Tribe attendance hits the 1,250,000 mark and will stop at 2,500,000. Should Cleveland reach the two and one-half million mark Feller will bank $72,500. He struggled along on $62,500 last year.

Kiner, the slugging star of the Pittsburgh Pirates, signed a one-year contract calling for around $30,000. The exact terms are unknown but a source said Kiner's contract "always has contained a bonus arrangement." Kiner has either led or been tied for the circuit's home run leadership the past three years.

Cooper, the hard-hitting catcher of the New York Giants, was persuaded to join the fold by his manager, Leo Durocher, in Kansas City. The big backstop had been asked to take a $7,500 cut from his $30,000 salary of 1948 but he balked. A compromise is figured to give Cooper around $25,000.

lead, 44-42, in the second half, but fell behind in a late Redcat drive. Rio Grande held a 38-35 margin at halftime and kept the lead during the final half. Don Morgan of the visitors was game scorer with 34 points. Rio Grande's New Oliver led his team with 20 points.

At Dayton, Ohio University kept its half-time advantage to the end of the game. The score was 26-23 for the visitors at intermission.

High point man was Ohio Forward Bob Johnson with 14. Dayton's Bob Flynn and Dirk Campbell led their team with 9 points each.

At Cincinnati, Xavier broke Long Island's zone defense shortly before halftime, galloping into a lead it held the remainder of the game. The score was 35-20 at the half for the Musketeers.

Forward Bill Cully paced the victors with 20 points.

Two traveling Ohio teams were defeated. Youngstown fell to Wayneburg 74-51, and Kenyon was defeated by Niagara, 98-74.

Booster Session Thursday Geared To Bring Out Those Who Haven't Been Attending

"This session Thursday is geared to bring out the members we haven't seen for a number of meetings, the fellows who belong, or used to belong, to the club, but haven't been active for some time," Fritz Bichsel, Salem Boosters club president, said today.

Bichsel was speaking of the meeting at 8:15 p. m. Thursday at the Salem Saxon club, Railroad st., when Chet Adams, veteran tackle for the Cleveland Browns, champions of the All-America conference, will speak.

Adams, a former star with the old Cleveland Rams and the Green Bay Packers, will discuss pro football here and will conduct the usual question period following his talk.

He will also show a sound movie of the Browns' recent season, when they went undefeated through a grueling 14-game schedule and won their third straight All-America conference title.

Bichsel has planned a strictly informal meeting. There will be no regular business and lunch will be served.

The meeting is not confined to Boosters club members. Bichsel hopes that men interested in finding out about the club and those who want to take part in club activities will attend.

The appearance of Adams here marks the first time he has spoken in Salem. Previously the Boosters have heard from Lou Saban, Brown captain, and Red Conkright, a former coach and with the Cleveland team. Mac Speedie, the regular end, appeared in Salem at a church function a year ago.

The Boosters are planning a series of meetings similar to the one Thursday and it is hoped that a representative collection of speakers can be secured to represent the various sports.

Efforts are now under way to secure films of Kentucky basketball games for use at a strictly basketball meeting. The club also plans a pre-season track session for the members and track candidates, at which films of the Olympic games will be shown and a speaker featured.

Wilbur Springer, former Salem High principal and at one time coach in basketball, football and track, has been contacted to speak at one track session. Springer is the originator of the Salem Night relays, an event that brought Salem nationwide publicity in the sport.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Joe Louis today sought her second divorce from the heavyweight champion.

Kentucky's basketball team averaged more than 62 points a game during the 1947-48 season while opponents got only 39 per game.

married couple, in order to straighten out their mix-up, felt obliged to get married again. This invasion of the sacred state of marriage by a fake divorce is an affront to the court. It offends the dignity of the court. Such conduct cannot be tolerated.
"Courts' decisions are through journal entries. In divorce cases these journal entries are divorce decrees. These decrees are sacred and solemn. Therefore, lawyers came into this case to protect the court against the false decree and to protect the public from tricky and fraudulent interference with the records of its courts.
"If a lawyer did what The Cleveland Press has done, he would be disbarred. No lawyer here ever did such thing."
The Press contended editorially that its action was well-intended and explained the story was by a want to reflect on Judge Silbert personally but to show up a weakness in divorce court procedure caused by an overcrowded docket. As many as 200 cases a week come before the judge. The Press added:

STACY PRESENTED
DETWILER TROPHYColumbiana Boy Scout
Given Award At Rotary Banquet

COLUMBIANA, Feb. 8—Larry Stacy was presented the Theodore Detwiler Memorial Boy Scout award, signifying his selection as "the most outstanding Scout in Fairfield township in 1948" at the Rotary club Scout recognition banquet last night.

At the session in the Methodist church, Stacy was honored two-fold as Hiram McGrath, past president of Rotary, awarded him the book-end trophy, the first of an annual presentation the club plans to make in conjunction with its Scout aid program.

Stacy also was awarded, in the Boy Scout Court of Honor, his Life Scout award, earned through successful completion of scouting tests and achievement. The presentation was made by George Robertson, scoutmaster of Troop 16.

McGrath praised Stacy for his achievements in Scouting and announced that special honorable mention had been given by the award committee to Arnold Elser, Edward Burke and Carl Dodson in competition for the Detwiler trophy.

Various other Scout merit awards and promotions in rank were made at the Court of Honor, Russell Barrow, president of the county Boy Scout council, presiding.

Dr. Thomas King, president of Rotary, conducted at the after-dinner session. He introduced D. W. Bailey, Boy Scout commissioner for Columbiana village, who was in charge of the special Rotary program.

Members of Troops 16 and 18, Boy Scouts, and Cub Pack 17 were guests of the club, along with all adult leaders.

John Hartwell, Columbiana county Boy Scout executive, took part in the meeting.

OBITUARY

HELEN ELVIRA PEARSON

Miss Helen Elvira Pearson, 43, daughter of Mrs. Elvira Pearson and the late Dan Pearson, died of complications at 8:30 p. m. Monday in the Orange Memorial hospital, Orange, N. J. She had been in ill health for six months, but the death was unexpected.

Born in Ottumwa, Iowa, Feb. 17, 1904, she spent her early life in Iowa, but later moved to Ohio. She graduated from Mansfield High school and the Kellogg school of physical education at Battle Creek, Mich. For the past 31 years she has been director of the Y.W.C.A. in Orange and served as summer counselor at Camp Lennox, a girls camp, at Arden, N. J.

Her father was manager of the Penney store here for 18 years, and she spent many summers here. Survivors besides her mother, Mrs. Elvira Pearson of Salem include a sister, Mrs. Don C. Youngblood of Park Ridge, Ill., and a brother, Russell D. Pearson of Salem.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home in charge of Rev. G. D. Keister, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran church. Interment will be in Grandview cemetery.

Friends may call Thursday evening at the funeral home.

Mt. Nebo
When Mt. Nebo grange meets Wednesday night Charles Morlan will give a safety program on household wiring. A question and answer period will follow.
Mt. Nebo grangers are making plans for their 75th anniversary celebration March 9.

Ballot Contracts Made
By Board of Elections

EAST LIVERPOOL, Feb. 8—The Columbiana county board of elections has awarded contracts for printing, furnishing ballots, poll books and other supplies for the May 3 primary election in eight cities and villages.

The Keystone Printing Co. of East Liverpool received the ballot job on a bid of $666.90.

The poll book contract, for both the primaries and the Nov. 8 election, was given to the Columbus Blank Book Manufacturing Co. of Columbus.

Primaries will be held in East Liverpool, East Palestine, Salem, Wellsville, Columbiana, Leetonia, Lisbon and Sellenville.

HUNGARIAN

prince of the Catholic church to face the penal measures of a government while actually a member of the sacred College of Cardinals. He stood quietly, hands folded, face expressionless as Judge Olthys pronounced the court's findings.

The Cardinal and other prominent Catholics were arrested Dec. 26, setting off one of the fiercest church-state controversies in modern times. They were charged with treason, plotting to overthrow the government, espionage and selling dollars at above the government-fixed rate on the black market. Father Zakar had been arrested on treason charges about a month before.

Cardinal Mindszenty and the other six defendants were brought into court last Thursday. The first day of the trial lasted 13 hours with the Cardinal at once pleading partly guilty but denying that he had plotted to overthrow the government.

All the others except Baranyai pleaded partly guilty, but denied plotting against the government. Baranyai declared his innocence.

The Cardinal acknowledged writing a letter to the minister of justice offering to withdraw from his office for a time to allow the Hungarian bishops to negotiate for a church-state agreement which he previously had opposed.

(There have been unconfirmed reports that the government was seeking to establish a national Catholic church, independent of Vatican control.)

Cardinal Mindszenty acknowledged Royalist sympathies, admitted engaging in illegal money deals and offered to make restitution for the amount of money lost by the state.

Finally, he said he had changed his mind about a letter he wrote to the bishops before his arrest in which he warned them not to accept as bona fide any confession he might make because of "human frailty."

Program Planned

COLUMBIANA, Feb. 8—Church night will be observed at the Methodist church, Thursday evening with a congregational covered dinner at 6:30.

Following the dinner, there will be a program including a moving picture, "Sal of the Earth," music by a male quartet, and group singing. Grant Culp is chairman of the committee on arrangements, and Ralph Reddington will be master of ceremonies.

Name On Ballot
The name of Charles Donbar, Republican, for council, did not appear in the lists of candidates published, as his petition was not received until Friday morning, but his name was accepted for a place on the ballot, the petition having been mailed Feb. 1. In a number of such cases the board of elections ruled that petitions postmarked Feb. 1 should be accepted.

George M. Griffith, secretary of the Northeast Ohio Farm Labor association, who has been disabled by sciatic rheumatism, is improving.
Rev. Henry C. Koch of St. Louis, executive secretary of the commission on world service of the Evangelical and Reformed denomination, will be the guest speaker in Grace church, Columbiana, Sunday morning.

Daughter Engaged
Mr. and Mrs. William H. Baker of New Springfield announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Marian Lea, 21-year-old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jagan of Signal, south of Columbiana. The open church

Jet Bomber Sets New Transcontinental Record

Better Phone Service For Ohio Rural Areas Sought

COLUMBUS, Feb. 9—(AP)—Legislators today studied a new bill to aid rural phone users claiming service is so poor their homes might burn before they could call firemen.

The measure was substituted in the house commerce committee for one offered earlier by Rep. Robert W. Reider (D-Ottawa).

It said more than six subscribers on a telephone line "shall be deemed prima facie evidence of inadequate service."

Reider credited the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. with providing the best service. But 31.2 percent of the firm's lines in northeastern and southwestern Ohio have eight subscribers, he reported.

Four large independent companies and 200 small firms serve Ohio besides Ohio Bell, he added.

Reider credited the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. with providing the best service. But 31.2 percent of the firm's lines in northeastern and southwestern Ohio have eight subscribers, he reported.

Reider said the state-wide average is ten phones to a party line. They run as high as 14 and 16 in some areas, he added.

The Oak Harbor newspaper publisher said he has been waging a futile editorial battle for nearly a year with the Northern Ohio Telephone Co. of Bellevue, in an effort to better service in Ottawa county. He says the firm serves 21 northern Ohio counties.

"Ohio's rural telephone users are entitled to adequate service and it is an obligation of the legislature to compel the utilities to recognize this fact," he asserted.

He read several letters complaining of inadequate service or lack of it in various areas. He said names were withheld to "protect" writers.

He listed them as coming from Route 2 Hudson, Ravenna, Lake Milton, Route 10 Dayton and Minerva. There were many others, he added.

Rites Saturday For Pvt. Stayton

The body of Pvt. Lawrence E. Stayton, 18, of Salem, has been returned from the Philippines for burial.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home in charge of Rev. R. J. Hunter, with burial in Hope cemetery.

Friends may call Friday evening at the funeral home.

Pvt. Stayton was killed in action May 16, 1945, in Northern Luzon, while serving with an army combat unit, the Bushmasters, a part of the 159th Infantry.

Born in Greer, W. Va., June 19, 1926, he was the son of William and Genevieve Long Stayton of the Damascus rd. He attended the Baptist Sunday school and Goshen High school. When he entered the service he was employed by "Baby-Cock-Wilcox, Alliance."

Other survivors include his wife, Delores Stout and daughter, Nancy Jean of Springboro, Pa.; a sister, Mrs. Margaret McCartney of Salem; and three brothers, Robert of Oakland, Calif., William, Jr., and Gerald at home.

Girl Getting On Bus Hit By Truck

Donna Marie Saunders, age six, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Saunders of R. D. 4, Lisbon, was seriously injured at 8:25 a. m. today when she was struck by a coal truck as she was crossing the highway to board a school bus.

The accident occurred on Route 30, five miles west of Lisbon.

The girl suffered a compound fracture and severe lacerations of the left leg and severe shock.

Witnesses said she was with four other children waiting for the bus. When it stopped they started across the road to board it. The Saunders girl was in the lead and was hit by the right front fender of the truck as it passed the bus headed west.

She was brought to Salem City hospital.

The truck driver, Richard Spiker, 28, of Youngstown, was arrested and fined $20 and costs by Justice Felix Bued of Lisbon for passing a school bus.

Lausche Indicates He Would Veto Act Killing Labor Law

COLUMBUS, Feb. 9—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche today indicated he would veto a bill to repeal the Ferguson act banning strikes by public employes.

The house of the state legislature yesterday voted 71 to 61 to wipe out the two year old law. The repealer now goes to the senate.

Gov. Lausche said at a news conference: "If and when the bill reaches my desk, I will deal with it without becoming a slave to the fear of political consequences."

"I will deal with the bill with the principal thought that operation of state government must go on without paralysis imposed by economic sanctions of any group within the government."

"Uppermost in my mind will be the fact there are 7,700,000 people in the state who in the main want government operations to proceed without impediment."

The state senate, birthplace of the Ferguson act, got a "please repeal" request from the house.

Sixty-eight house Democrats stood united for repeal—just enough votes for passage of the labor-backed proposal.

They were joined by three Republicans, Reps. Guy C. Hiner of Canton, co-sponsor of the repealer, Ray C. Carpenter of Tiffin, and Dave Moore of New Lexington.

Democrats have 69 house members but Speaker John T. Cantwell of Youngstown did not vote. One of the 66 elected Republicans was absent and one has died.

Two hours of debate over the repealer brought out that Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche might be placed in a difficult spot if senators pass it.

Lausche Opposed
Party spokesman said previously the governor opposed repeal. They expressed belief he might veto the measure if it reached him. Eighty-one votes are necessary to override a veto in the house.

The governor has asked committee chairman—all Democrats—to dinner in the mansion tonight, presumably to discuss his legislative program.

The senate got another labor-supported bill from the house. It permits the state and its subdivisions to "recognize the rights of employees to affiliate with or join labor organizations."

The original bill by Rep. William D. Donovan (D-Lucas) required such recognition but it was amended on the floor to make it permissive. The change was proposed by Rep. Joseph Schwartz (R-Hamilton).

The amendment carried 67 to 63. The revised bill then passed 81 to 49.

Democrats cautioned an hour and a half before voting on the Ferguson repealer in an attempt to line up four dissident party members.

The four held their own "caucus" in the house chamber and remained with the party on the roll call vote. They were Reps. M. C. Anderson and David Postlewait, both of Columbus; George Gruenmeyer of Dayton and Ray M. White of Millersburg.

Democratic sponsors of repeal opened debate as about 150 spectators in the house gallery looked on. They were Reps. J. H. Avelone of Cleveland and Frank W. King of Toledo. Honer, their co-sponsor, backed them up.

"I know of only one country where you can't strike against the government—that's Russia," said Avelone. "The question is whether the Ferguson act is good or bad. It should be repealed."

Adds To Power, Claim
King said the Ferguson law gives supervisors of public workers "the power to regulate their every act."

He said Sen. David McK. Ferguson (R-Guernsey), author of the act bearing his name, wants to curtail labor activity and added: "I'm not for anyone having more power than government. But I don't want supervisors to have such power to regulate."

Rep. Milton D. Tobin (D-Hamilton) said: "The Ferguson act represents the philosophy that was repealed last November."

WINDS WHIP SNOW DRIFTS THROUGH WEST

Freshly-Blown Snow Piles High, Cause New Blockages, Tie-ups In U. S.

(By The Associated Press)
Huge drifts of freshly-driven snow reblocked highways and rail lines over thousands of miles in the storm-stricken western states today. More than 5,000 travelers on some 40 trains were stranded as crews worked against adverse weather conditions to move the stalled trains.

The new snow and wind storms this week in the Wyoming-Utah-Idaho area cost the lives of at least five persons. Ten families were rescued from threatened suffocation in their snow-covered houses at Rawlins, Wyo.

Westerly winds reaching a velocity of nearly 40 miles an hour whipped over sections of the blizzard belt today. Stockmen expressed fear of further losses to livestock from the latest in the series of storms which have lashed the western plains and Rocky Mountain region for nearly six weeks.

Thirty-six passengers and one army train were stalled between Omaha and Denver. Last night some of the mail trains in the Wyoming snowbound area were rerouted.

The strong winds blew across the snow-carpeted areas of Wyoming, Idaho and parts of Utah and moved eastward into Nebraska, Montana and the Dakotas today. The U. S. weather bureau said winds may diminish during the day in the Rocky Mountain region but "only temporarily."

Most of the blizzard-swept disaster area, however, got one break in the weather—temperatures were not severe. But a below zero belt covered most sections of the north central states. The mercury was expected to be above freezing in Nebraska and the Dakotas and the Rocky Mountain area.

In Wyoming drifting snow reblocked more than 2,300 miles of roads which had been opened by Army crews. Airplanes flew supplies of milk and bakery goods to Rawlins and Rock Springs, Wyo., to meet emergency needs of stranded rail passengers.

Further livestock losses can be expected before spring in Wyoming, the State Agriculture society said. It also said feed has reached "critically low levels in many parts of the state" because of the snow-blocked roads. The council placed livestock losses at present from 10,000 to 20,000 cattle and from 30,000 to 50,000 sheep.

At Omaha, Rufus M. Howard, Nebraska director of agriculture, said that three and one half per cent of the livestock in 15 of the state's hardest hit counties would be lost because of snow and cold.

The fifth army's operation snowed out of Omaha said that 22,849 miles of road had been opened in 10 days in the disaster areas of Nebraska, Wyoming and South Dakota. The army said 49,298 persons had been liberated and 1,252,132 cattle and 211,835 other animals had been given access to feed.

Drifts of snow as much as 18 feet high blocked rail lines in parts of Utah and Idaho last night, stalling 18 Union Pacific passenger and mail trains.

Arizona suffered from the new snows.

The strong winds which hit west central and northern Utah blocked roads with new drifts. Many schools were closed.

Wheat Price At $1.97 A Bushel In Sharp Break

CHICAGO, Feb. 9—(UP)—The price of May wheat plunged below the $2 mark for the first time in two years today in the sharpest price break since the big slump a year ago.

The grain market, keystone in the nation's price structure, broke the limit yesterday and continued the sharp downward trend today in a jittery trading session with wide fluctuations.

Wheat for delivery in May plunged within a fraction of the 10-cent per bushel loss allowed for a single day's trading, selling for $1.97 a bushel.

Soybean prices dropped the full 10-cent limit.

Other commodities, notably cotton, fluctuated nervously as traders watched the grain market for clues to the trend.

Wholesale prices of 31 basic foods dropped to the lowest level since Oct. 8, 1946, when price controls still were in effect. Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., reported that its wholesale food price index plunged 23 cents during the last week, and was 17.1 per cent below the level of a year ago.

Hog prices at major cornbelt markets opened 25 cents lower in a further decline. The top price at Chicago was $20, a new low since the end of OPA.

The decline in the grain market was expected to have little immediate effect on retail food prices, but the lower wholesale food prices reported by Dun and Bradstreet presaged more price cuts at the corner grocery.

Yesterday's decline on the Chicago grain exchange was the first time since Feb. 6, 1948, that all grains dropped the limit. A year ago at this time, the market was suffering its sharpest decline in history.

The current decline began on the same date as that of a year ago, Feb. 4. Last Friday, prices began falling when traders learned that the government had cut the amount of wheat and corn authorized for shipment abroad.

Prices really hit the skids yesterday with wheat futures for May delivery closing at $2.06 1/4 a bushel.

Low Approaching
May wheat has not sold for $2 a bushel since February of 1947. Corn for delivery in May has not sold for $1 since March, 1943.

The grain market never has recovered fully from the big price break last February that tumbled prices down from all-time highs earlier the same week.

All Time High Feb. '48 Yest. Feb. 1948 Collapse
May wheat $3.06 $2.37 $2.06 1/4
May corn $2.70 $2.05 $1.16 1/4

Traders agreed generally that the decline this week resulted mainly from disappointment because the government has not purchased as much grain as expected. They said the government curtailed purchases because shipping facilities to foreign countries are clogged. When shipping becomes easier, they expect the government to resume buying.

One trader said housewives should not expect "to buy her breakfast Turn to WHEAT, Page 8

TWING SEEDS HEADS GOLF CLUB BOARD

Twing Seeds was elected president of the board of directors of the Salem Golf club, succeeding C. S. Carr, at a meeting of the board Tuesday night in the First National bank.

Carr had served for three years as president of the board and has been closely associated with the club for 27 years. He served as secretary for 20 years.

Other officers named include Lloyd Gordon, vice president; T. Emerson Smith, secretary; and L. H. Colley, treasurer.

Buta, Home For First Time Since '42, Tells Of Life In Sovietized Romania

The State department's Office of War Information in Bucharest, Romania, where he has been located ever since. That office was later consolidated as the Office of Public Affairs. It is now called the Office of Information and Educational Exchange, a real mouthful.

He is now on statutory leave of two months, which he plans to spend in Salem. He'll return to Washington at its expiration, then back to Bucharest.

Buta's job with the O. I. E. is that of a press attaché. Part of that occupation consists of publishing a mimeographed daily press review of the Romanian publications for the consumption of American legion officials.

In addition, he contacts Romanian journalists and supplies them with U. S. news—at least as much as they see fit to use. There are no regular American correspondents left in Romania, he says, but the various wire services have local representatives there to supply them with important news stories. These writers are also assisted by Buta's department.

The O. I. E. also maintains an American library which is patronized by 250 to 300 people each day. Their musical concerts are also well attended, he says.

The "Voice of America" radio broadcasts to countries behind the Iron Curtain is another O. I. E. function.

A Romanian by birth, Buta has enjoyed his service in Bucharest, the country's capital. In fact, while on trips in the country, he has found several of his family's relatives, who were left behind or who have moved back to Romania. He visited his father's birthplace and the village in which he lived before coming to the United States 45 years ago.

Buta has had more than a good Turn to BUTA, Page 9

No Solution

In the translation of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty's statement in court before his conviction on a charge of treason, these passages stand out from the others:

"I never wanted to get into conflict with the laws . . . I did not have and do not have any trouble with the Hungarian worker, the Hungarian farmer. I did not want to take away from any social class any rights that belonged to them . . . I thank God that, in the course of the investigation, to my own severe conscience I did not prove to be an enemy of the people . . . this morning the following prayer came to my lips: God give peace in these days. Not for the future or the distant future, but in these days. I ask this peace for my church, my love for which I brought here, too for the Hungarian state toward which I showed my obedience, and peace for my own soul. I ask the Lord to give the court the wisdom that it can pass a sentence which will guarantee a solution abroad and here."

The sentence was life imprisonment. It is not a solution. Josef Cardinal Mindszenty was guilty because he stood for the spiritual rights of human beings against the temporal rights of a junta of political dictators. All churchmen in Communist-dominated states ultimately must be found guilty of treason on the same score. None of them can serve both God and the godless masters of political dictatorship. The conflict between them is irreconcilable.

Cautious Optimism

For what it may be worth, the United Nations department of economic affairs has surveyed the world and concludes that things will be all right in 1949. Its report was put on the official records at the beginning of this week.

Most vital of the U. N. agency's findings was the general easing of shortages throughout Europe. Asia and Latin America are still on the inflationary ropes, however. Food, generally speaking, is more abundant, with better prospects. Industrial production has been rising, despite spotty evidence of feet-dragging here and there. In this age of rationalized economies, the U. N. report will be given attention corresponding to that given the periodic reports of the president's council of economic advisers in this country.

Downhill Psychology

The psychology of deflation is vividly illustrated in a news picture of crowded pens in the Kansas City stockyard.

It may be compared with previous pictures which showed the same pens empty. That occurred when stockmen were waiting for the price of beef to rise. When the price is falling, there is a rush to convert beef on the hoof into cash in the bank.

At the same time, with prices falling, consumers are inclined to wait as long as they can—to take advantage of a still lower price. This is especially true of durable goods, only partly true of consumer items, such as beef. It explains the slowdown in new construction and the sharp drop in the price of used automobiles.

Economists list the psychological factor high among the causes of rising and falling prices. When prices are rising, uphill psychology causes buyers to accelerate the rise by demanding goods before the price goes still higher. Downhill psychology, on the other hand, accelerates the drop by causing buyers to hold back until the price goes still lower.

Producers and suppliers, meanwhile, must make the best of the consumers' buying habits. That means, in the present instance, trying to accelerate the rate of consumption by offering goods at lower prices. After nine years of war-stimulated inflation, circumstances finally have changed. The nation faces an indefinite period of deflation, which will be called various other names to conceal what it really is.

Pudding Proving

If you are one of the millions of Americans who have wondered what would happen if people sacrificed as much for peace as they do for war, the cost of European aid should seem trifling, on a comparative basis.

ECA Administrator Hoffman thinks of it that way when he describes $5,580,000,000—the cost of aid for the current 15 months beginning last April—as a bargain. He wants almost as much, however, for the next fiscal year, and that still would not be the end of the aid program. Europeans are unable to look ahead to the time when their economies will be able to stand on their feet.

That's the rub. It will be an issue in the 81st congress. It will be an issue in the 82nd congress. If war does not occur, how long should the United States continue to give huge amounts of supplies at its own expense to other governments?

Still more to the point, how long should the other governments expect to receive such aid? Or will the very fact of their survival as partial dependents of the United States cause them to make a habit of dependency?

The gamble in the Marshall plan—and before that in the Truman "doctrine" for helping Greece and Turkey—was that the beneficiaries of U. S. aid would cease to be dependent after a limited time. Most Americans believed they would. Otherwise, they wouldn't have sacrificed their own wealth for a plan to avert war. They still think it's a good gamble. But they are beginning to realize that the odds against it are getting no shorter as time passes.

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

A STRANGE or abnormal condition or an inexplicable situation quite out of the ordinary, could prove not only intriguing but baffling and disconcerting. All sorts of complications could menace the personal, romantic and workaday life, as tricky dubious undercurrents assail the affairs. As well inner urges, strange, intangible and unaccountable, could cloud right thinking and lead to erratic, abnormal and irresponsible states of mind, conduct and activities. The inclination to indulge in juvenile or illicit behavior should be suppressed.

On the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of the peculiar, irregular, perplexing and complicated, in which it is difficult to predict the final outcome. Not only erratic and eccentric developments, but various and irresistible drives may unfold intriguing slants in the judgment, with unhappy and discreditable reaction on the life generally. Being carried away by fantastic emotions could have a serious effect on even discreet and rational characters. Sinister slips, due to illness, tricky contacts or designing persons, might exact far-reaching penalties. Strict adherence to the "straight and narrow" is urgent. Preserve the amenities and principles in crises.

A child born on this day may have strong urges to youthful urges, emotions and pastimes, inclining to indiscretions and perhaps anti-social conduct, undermining its life and career.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

BY WAITER KIERNAN

GOP Chairman Hugh Scott has a book coming out called "How To Go Into Politics" . . . takes a candidate right up to the White House door and leaves him outside.

But the book was drafted at a time when Rep. Scott had reason to believe it would be a success story.

Booksellers are kindly requested not to list it under "humor" . . . there are some things that are not funny to a Republican national chairman.

The hottest seller in the winter book line probably will be the bound copies of Mr. Truman's campaign speeches . . . even those who heard them still don't believe the result.

Both books are available in April and should be purchased as a set . . . "How To Do It" and "How I Did It."

But anyone who depends on a book to win friends and influence people must have noticed that Dale Carnegie never ran for president.

Refuse Parole
Request of Hart

COLUMBUS, Feb. 9.—(UP)—The state parson and parole commission today refused a parole to Solly Hart of Cleveland, convicted of first degree murder in the 1937 slaying of Roy Marino of Youngstown, and continued his case until June, 1949.

The action of the three-member commission was unanimous. Hart's first degree murder sentence was reduced to second degree by former Governor Thomas J. Herbert three days before leaving office. Without such action, Hart would not have been eligible to come before the commission for another 10 years.

Marino was slain about 36 hours before he was to appear before the attorney general's state-wide parole graft grand jury in 1937 to testify how he got out of the penitentiary. Marino had served 14 months of a 20-year sentence for the robbery of the Louisville (Stark county) branch of the George D. Hart-er bank when he was released on Jan. 12, 1935, by former Governor George White a few minutes before he left office.

Marino's body was found along the highway near Rogers, in Columbiana county, the morning of Sept. 10, 1947. He had been shot 18 times.

Lisbon Council Hears
Talk, Discusses Meters

LISBON, Feb. 9.—Deputy Sheriff Al Hartman explained the new two-way radio to be used by the sheriff's office to members of the village council Monday night.

Council approved the use of a mobile unit in the village cruiser, which will tie in with the county's setup.

A representative of the Union Metal Co. of Canton exhibited the dual parking meter made by his firm to council. He is the first of three company representatives to show their meters to council.

The council took action upon the request of residents of E. Washington st. last night and restricted parking on that street.

The Nation Today

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(AP)—In this country does a man have the right to work or quit his job if he dislikes the working conditions? "Yes," you say. "In this country every man is free to do as he pleases so long as he doesn't hurt someone else."

But does a man in an industry which affects the public health and welfare, like a railroad, have a right to quit if he dislikes his job? Again you say "yes," for the same reason as before. But then comes a bigger question:

Do all the railroad workers, banded together in a union, have a right to quit their job in a strike over working conditions? Remember, before you say "yes," what a railroad strike might

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out about 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Then gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk. It takes those mild, gentle Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Effective in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills, 33¢ at any drugstore.

mean? If it lasted long enough it might starve the nation and cause a revolution against the government which failed to stop it and get food to the people.

Faced with that, you may say: "No. A union in a vital industry like that should not be allowed to strike."

BUT ISN'T that, contradicting what you just said a minute ago, when you said an individual has a right to strike if he doesn't like a job?

Yet, when it involves a collection of such individuals in a union, you say "no." How do you draw such a line?

Does an individual, in your mind, lose his individual rights when he and other individuals act upon their individual rights collectively?

You may answer something like this:

"The general welfare comes first. An individual striking in a vital industry won't hurt the general welfare. Nor will it be hurt by a whole union striking in a non-vital industry."

"But when a strike by a union in a vital industry can hurt, or even destroy the general welfare, I say such a strike should not be permitted."

But if you compel an individual, or a union, to work at any kind of job, isn't that a form of slavery? Isn't forcing a man to work against his will contrary to the constitution which forbids "involuntary servitude"?

You may argue: "This is a free society, I know. But no man's freedom in America is complete. Freedom here is limited and it's limited for the sake of what I just said: The general welfare."

"FOR INSTANCE, there's a law against murder. So that's a limit on the freedom of any man to kill. But that limit on everyone's freedom increases everyone's freedom from fear of being killed. So we yield some freedom to gain some freedom."

"So our problem in this country is now to preserve the most freedom even when we find it necessary to restrict some freedoms for the general welfare."

"A big strike that endangered the general welfare, or led to a revolution that brought on a dictatorship and an end to all freedom, should not be allowed."

Yes, but a strike is labor's biggest and final weapon in trying to force an employer into an agreement on wages and working conditions.

And labor fears that once there was a law forbidding strikes in big vital industries, in which this power to stop strikes might spread to the most non-vital industries and, in time, prevent all strikes of any kind.

This is one of the problems Congress faces in trying to figure out a new labor law that will protect the freedom of individuals and unions and at the same time protect the general welfare from the damage of a big strike.

RUBINSTEIN FACES TWO MORE CHARGES

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Charges involving a $3,000,000 stock fraud were contained today in two indictments against Serge Rubinstein, international financier serving a prison sentence for draft dodging.

A federal grand jury returned the indictments yesterday in two true bills. Rubinstein is serving a two and a half year term for violation of the wartime Selective Service act.

Co-defendant with Rubinstein was Frank E. Bliss, described by Chief Assistant U. S. Attorney Irving H. Saypol as a member of the New York stock exchange.

The indictment charged the violations occurred in preparing the 1945 and 1946 sale of Rubinstein's common stock in Panhandle Refining and Producing Co. from which Rubinstein allegedly realized an illegal profit of more than $3,000,000.

If convicted under the two indictments the two men face maximum sentences of 19 years and fines totaling $31,000.

ANNOUNCING ANOTHER NEW "FUTURAMIC"...

"88" THE OLDSMOBILE

WITH "ROCKET" ENGINE

The Futuramic Fleet is now complete! The Oldsmobile "98" . . . the Oldsmobile "76" . . . and now the Oldsmobile "88," the newest Futuramic of them all! It's NEW in power . . . with all the brilliant action, unbelievable smoothness, and gas-saving economy of Oldsmobile's high-compression "Rocket" Engine. It's NEW in styling . . . with that brand new Body by Fisher whose lower, wider, roomier dimensions and greater visibility have made it an industry-wide sensation. But the Oldsmobile "88" goes further than that. It has an entirely NEW balance . . . a NEW "feel" . . . an indescribable something that sets it apart from any car ever built. You'll understand this when you drive the car . . . and not until then. So make a date with the "88." Ask your Oldsmobile dealer for a "New Thrill" ride. Then you'll know what all the excitement is about!

Hydra-Matic Drive standard equipment on Series "98" and "88," optional at extra cost on "76." White sidewall tires optional at extra cost.

Child Should Have Hobby, Mothers Club Is Told

"A child should have a hobby," Mrs. Charles McCorkhill told members of the Progressive Mothers club in an entertaining and informative talk on "Hobbies and Antiques" at a meeting Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Donald Smith, Georgetown rd.

"Hobbies are safety valves," the speaker declared. "They are a part of a happy and well adjusted life. People who have hobbies are happy people," according to Mrs. McCorkhill.

She advised the mothers to see that their children know something about antiques.

Mrs. McCorkhill augmented her talk with an exhibit of an historical book and pamphlets, including a copy of the Ohio Patriot, published in Lisbon in 1820. She also gave a demonstration of how to remove the finish from an antique frame.

Mrs. Richard Albright, program chairman, introduced the speaker. Mrs. William Greene, president, officiated.

To this most enjoyable meeting Mrs. A. V. Smith and Mrs. Dudley Ashead brought their collections of cups and saucers and Mrs. Richard Wilson exhibited her collection of jewelry made from Florida seashells.

Mrs. James Giffin's hobby includes leather work, hammered metal and woodcraft.

Plan Dinner-Dance

Plans were completed for the Husbands Night dinner-dance Feb. 26 at the Elks home, Alliance.

Mrs. Wilson, chairman, announced a tentative date for the style show March 22. It will be held in the Masonic temple as a benefit for the club's Girl Scout project.

Mrs. Clarence Dickey and Mrs. William Abbott, co-hostesses, served lunch to 19 members and two guests, Mrs. G. E. Byers, an honorary member, and Mrs. Davidson of North Lima.

The March 8 meeting will be with Mrs. Albright of E. Ninth st.

Lutheran Choir Has Party On Tuesday

Twenty-seven members and guests of Holy Trinity Lutheran church choir met Tuesday evening in the church. The event served as a welcoming party for five new members.

Hosts were Louis Laurain and Paul Christopher, assisted by Mrs. Albert Ryser, Miss Jeanette Hoch, Mrs. Calvin Funk, Herbert Kelley, Mrs. G. D. Keister and Tom Hutson. Buffet refreshments were served in the valentine theme.

A social was enjoyed and Miss Ruth Hoch presided at the business session. Plans were made for a cantata at 7:30 p. m. Easter Sunday.

Officers of the organization, besides Miss Hoch, are: Vice president, Mrs. Cella Greenstein; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Calvin Funk. Mr. Hutson is director.

The next social will be in April.

Couple Are Honored At Church Event

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Huppely of the Lisbon rd., who expect to move near East Liverpool this month, were honor guests at a Fellowship dinner Sunday given by Phillips Christian church in the social room. Eighty-two attended.

Mrs. Huppely was a former teacher in the Sunday school, and the couple were presented a gift, with Harold Asty, superintendent, making the presentation.

Sharing honors on this occasion were seven new members of the church. Rev. D. G. Stewart, pastor, was in charge of the program which included informal talks.

Mrs. Fife Chairman For Lodge Program

Mrs. James Fife will give the story of "First Ladies" when members of the Past Grand association of Home lodge, Daughters of Rebekah meet at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in I. O. O. F. hall.

Travelers Club Papers Presented

Meeting Tuesday afternoon at the public library assembly room, members of the Travelers club were entertained with three interesting papers.

"Scandinavia—A Social Laboratory" was the theme of a paper by Mrs. Troy Cope, Jr.

Magazine review, "We Have Lost Our Grip On Education," was presented by Mrs. Louis Mulick.

Mrs. Eugene Young's paper was on "Dawn Over Denmark."

The program was concluded with a movie, "Denmark."

Mrs. Harold A. Zealley was welcomed at a member.

A smorgasbord will feature the meeting at 1 p. m. next Tuesday. Mrs. G. A. Reese is chairman of the committee in charge.

Sturgill-Mason Vows Heard at Lisbon

Miss Gertrude Irene Sturgill, daughter of Mrs. James Sturgill of Elkton, and the late James Sturgill, and Earl Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Mason of Rockbridge, were united in marriage at 7:30 p. m. Saturday in the Emmanuel Wesleyan church, Lisbon. Rev. J. W. Lashbrook officiated.

An embankment of palms and taffetis made the setting. It was lighted by tall white tapers in candelabras.

The bride's gown was fashioned of white embroidery velvet ray. She completed it with a finger-tip veil of tulle. Her bouquet was of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Attendants were Mrs. James Kelvington and Mrs. Edward McGinnis of East Palestine, sisters of the bride; Joyce Ann Kelvington, flower girl; Larry McGinnis and Darrell Woodward, train bearers; Ralph Woodward of Springfield, best man; Clyde Woodward, usher.

Miss Charlotte McMullen, employee at the McCulloch store, and Mrs. William Whitehead were hostesses.

The bride is a graduate of the Lisbon High school. Her husband graduated from the Logan High school.

Following a honeymoon trip they will reside temporarily at the Sturgill home.

Mrs. George Auday of Franklin st., who has been ill at her home, was taken to Pittsburgh Monday by her granddaughter, Mrs. Betty Macloce of that city. She will be under a physician's observation there.

Acheson, Hoffman Support Marshall Plan Continuance

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson, appealing for continuation of the Marshall plan, told congress today that American recovery dollars have helped to block any advance of "totalitarianism" on the continent of Europe.

Because of the multi-billion dollar project now approaching the end of its first year, Acheson said, "The free community of Europe has not only held its own, but it has, during this period, made great strides forward."

Acheson followed Economic Cooperation Administrator Paul G. Hoffman as a witness before the senate foreign relations committee and the house foreign affairs committee, meeting jointly.

Hoffman offered a European recovery "bargain" with a $5,580,000,000 price tag. It was a 15-month extension of the Marshall plan.

"If that program brings us peace and stability," the ECA chief said, "and I fervently believe it can, it will turn out to be the greatest bargain the American people ever had."

Indirectly Acheson advised the congressional group of the administration's feeling that military security measures will have to be taken to back up economic recovery. At the moment, in fact, the secretary is deeply involved in negotiations for the projected North Atlantic security pact.

Hoffman laid before the senate-house foreign affairs committee the ECA aid program for the 15-month period of April 3, 1948, to June 30, 1949. But he warned this may not be enough.

He asked: (1) $1,150,000,000 to help non-Communist European countries over the next April-June period, (2) another $4,280,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1 and (3) $150,000,000 to be spent in long-range planning beyond the end of that fiscal year.

"This is the time to hit hard for European recovery," Hoffman said, "time for the Europeans to take the drastic and sometimes painful steps necessary for real recovery, time for the United States to back their efforts to the full."

The program includes economic aid for Turkey and Greece. But there was no request for help for the embattled government of Nationalist China, nor for Korea.

Hoffman said he will make an "interim proposal" on China later "together with certain suggested modifications in the China Aid act itself."

Last year congress appropriated $400,000,000 for aid to China, including $125,000,000 for military purposes.

Hoffman's request for $4,280,000,000 to be spent for Europe's recovery in fiscal 1950 is $770,000,000 less than ECA is spending during the first year's operation.

Resting in a corner of Father William Maund's office a clock that recorded the progress in paying off a $27,000 debt awaits retirement in the attic.

Leetonia St. Patrick's Pays Mortgage, Improves Parish

LEETONIA, Feb. 9—A clock has stopped and more than 300 Leetonia families are happy.

This clock did not show the hour of the day, but through seven years Rev. Fr. William Maund, pastor of the St. Patrick church, moved a giant hand to show progress in paying off a $27,000 mortgage on parish buildings. With marked speed, made possible by devoted church members, the hands swung past $500 marks until recently when Fr. Maund announced in services that the debt was paid and the clock was no longer needed. The highest figures shown on the clock is 23,000 as more than $3,000 was paid before the clock was installed.

Fr. Maund declared this speed is doubly impressive, because as his parish was rapidly paying the debt, many improvements were constantly being made on building of the church group.

In the church the organ has been rejuvenated and new floors have been laid. New walks now cover the parish grounds. The church has been redecorated, inside and outside. New equipment has been added. A modern lighting system and fixtures are scheduled for an early appearance.

The rectory has also been repaired during this period. In the Sisters' home a beautiful chapel has been completed with a gold tabernacle, provided by the late George Woods. The home was resided.

The school building, in which 130 pupils study, has been the scene of many improvements. A new roof was put on the structure. It was redecorated and painted.

LEETONIA

At the social meeting of St. Patrick's Mothers' club at the school Friday evening, plans were made for a benefit March 3, 4, 5. Mrs. Elsie Bell of Leetonia was awarded first prize, Dale Borton of Damascus, second and F. F. Guerrier, third.

Friendly class of St. Paul's Lutheran church was entertained at the church parlors Monday evening with Mrs. Walter Windram and Mrs. Earl E. Halverstadt associate hostesses. Mrs. H. C. Brillhart reviewed the book, "On Our Doorstep."

John White, Jr., concluded his semester vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John White and returned to Western Reserve university Sunday evening. Miss Marian Holt returned to Flora Stone Mather college, Cleveland, Sunday evening after a semester vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Holt, Jr.

Failure to stop at traffic signals was the basis of two fines this weekend in Leetonia. William Saunderman was fined $13.70 Friday night for failing to stop at the traffic light at the corner of Main and Walnut streets.

The car of Joseph Marks of Lisbon hit the one driven by Lewis Sneddon of Washingtonville at the corner of Main and Walnut Monday afternoon with slight damage to both cars.

Marks was fined $13.70 for failure to stop at the traffic light.

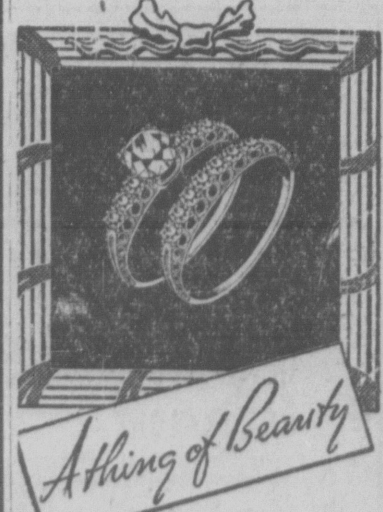

Sister's Death
Word was received here yesterday of the death Saturday of J. B. Sister's mother in Pittsburgh. Sister's mother, former adviser of the Mickey McGuire here, recently left the Bertelsen company for Pittsburgh due to family illness.

Rifle Range Action Deferred
At a meeting Sunday of the Leetonia Sportsmen's association action on the proposed construction of a high-powered rifle range for club use was deferred. The range would be located near the club's Cherry Valley lodge, according to Crin Deffenbaugh, president.

Feller Signs, Veeck Turns To Bearden, Lemon

Rapid Robert Took A Cut, But Still Has One of Biggest Take-Homes In '49 Baseball

BY DICK SMITH

CLEVELAND, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Bob Feller's in the fold, and President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians could concentrate his persuasive powers today on signing the remainder of his pitching staff's big three—Gene Bearden and Bob Lemon.

The good humor with which Rapid Robert took a substantial but undisclosed cut probably encourages the fearless one as he tackles the job of satisfying Lemon and Bearden, neither of their valuable fingers itched for the pen on the first Veeck offer.

There was nothing to confirm it amid the smiles and handshakes and popping flash bulbs at the Tribe's lakefront office yesterday. However, the best informed guesses were that Feller's pay slash was about $10,000 and left him $40,000 base pay and around $32,500 in prospective home attendance bonuses.

The $87,000 Feller earned in 1947 and the $92,500 last season made him the game's top money-earner. Now it appears that distinction passes to Yankee outfielder Joe DiMaggio, who signed Monday for a guessed-at $90,000 in base pay and bonuses.

Somewhat miffed, Veeck brushed aside the question of whether Feller would continue to endorse the Tribe's largest pay check. Manager and Shortstop Lou Boudreau received a sizeable raise two weeks ago on a two-year contract reportedly calling for $65,000 straight salary each year.

Although he refused to give any figures, Veeck proffered this information for the annual occasion:

1. Feller "very definitely took a cut," but his base pay remains the same and the reduction is in his home attendance bonuses.

2. "There aren't very many in baseball who ever got as much money as in the contract just signed."

3. "Bob is still one of baseball's two or three great pitchers, and I think he draws more people to the park than Joe DiMaggio in every town."

The fireballing righthander said little: "It's a good contract, all right. Now to win some ball games."

Feller said he would remain here a week and would go to the World Champions' Tucson, Ariz., training camp well ahead of its March 1 opening. He piloted his own plane here from New York, arriving about a half hour late for yesterday's conference.

Feller will be starting his 11th season with the Tribe (he was in the service for three wartime years). He was the 12th Indian to sign for next season. Pitcher Sam Zolcak received a nice pay boost in coming to terms Monday, and Pitchers Don Black and Early Wynn settled earlier.

Feller Signs New Contract

President Bill Veeck of the Indians rubs his hands with glee as his star pitcher, Bob Feller, signs his 1949 contract in Cleveland. Two weeks ago the hurler balked at terms for the first time in his ten years with the Tribe. Although he will take a cut of some $15,000 through a new bonus arrangement in the coming season, he is still the highest paid pitcher in baseball.

East Liverpool Class A Tourney Drawings Made

EAST LIVERPOOL, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Drawings were held yesterday for the Class A sectional high school basketball tournament to open here Feb. 28.

East Liverpool will meet Mingo Junction on opening day, with the winner to meet Wellsville March 2.

On March 1, Steubenville High and Steubenville Catholic Central will play, the winner meeting Toronto March 3. Finals will be played March 5.

When the UCLA basketball team dropped a 49-46 encounter to Wisconsin after winning six straight, the Bruins just failed to set a new school mark. Instead they tied the 1933-34 quintet's six straight record.

Lisbon Victorious Over North; Sets Sights For Friday

Jack Mills' Lisbon Blue Devils, kiting themselves for the crucial Tri-County battle Friday with Louisville, romped home to victory 52-39 over Youngstown North at Youngstown Tuesday.

Continuing impressive play, Lisbon stepped into a 18-11 lead and won victory with a steady brand of ball. The victory was certain throughout, North never seriously threatening the Blue Devils.

Frank Pezzano had a warm evening, coughing in for 22 points. Pike also did well, getting 16 for the winners. Chambers led Youngstown with 19.

Lisbon entertains Louisville Friday in a game which will settle the Tri-County title.

New Waterford Wins 70-49 Over Goshen

Playing at New Waterford Tuesday night, the C. H. High cagers went down to a trouncing 70-49 defeat at the hands of the home team.

Pacing the New Waterford scoring were Weber with 21, Mulch with 18 and Gotthardt with 12. Dicky Wyss collected 17 for Goshen, while Schoeni notched 12.

The winners led 32-23 at half-time.

Goshen's last game is at home Friday against North Jackson. Their first tournament game is against Lowellville. The tourney begins Feb. 17.

Cramb's Charges Start Well, But Slip In 2nd, Third Quarters

North Canton, roaring like a team bent on tournament success, thumped Jack Cramb's Columbiana Clippers by a 68-44 count at North Canton Tuesday evening.

Starting off slowly, trailing by a 13-10 margin at the close of the first quarter, Canton moved to the front 25-22 by halftime and never was threatened thereafter.

Columbiana's offense hit low gear in the third frame, netting only six points as Canton meshed 17. George Fisher was hot for the Clippers, considerably shorter than N. Canton, with 19 points.

In a red-hot reserve tilt, Columbiana lost 36-35 as Ronnie Morrow was the Canton hero, sinking a foul in the final seconds.

DEPT. OF INFORMATION

Thirty-two-year-old Chet Adams is the "old man" of the Cleveland Browns professional football team. He also is the pro on the Brown with the greatest collection of professional playing experience.

Scheduled to speak at the Salem Boosters club "stag" at the Saxon club Thursday, Chet should bring along a lot of interesting tales for Salemites. He will speak before showing the films of the 1948 Brown training, season and play-off experiences.

Adams has ambitions to stand a year or two more of actual "pro ball and then hopes to go into the coaching field. He was prominently mentioned recently as a possible coach at Ohio university, his alma mater. Carroll Widdoes of Ohio State finally accepted the post. Adams announced earlier that he was not yet ready to quit the pro ranks.

Although 32 isn't "old" on a lot of pro team, it is right up there in the Brown camp. Tommy Colella at 30 and Lou Rymkus, at 31, are the next oldest on the Brown squad.

Most of the players are around 26 or 27 with a few younger than that.

Chet Adams, however, is one of the few Browns who has played pro ball quite extensively in the National Pro League before the Browns ever existed. He performed at tackle with the old Cleveland Rams in 1939 and through 1942 when he was transferred to the Green Bay Packers when the Rams took a war time layoff.

It was while playing with the Packers that Chet was named All-Pro tackle, so he can give a good comparison of the Browns of today with the great Bears of Chicago in the cinder days. He played against the Bears with one of the National's most powerful teams in 1943—and prior to that—and now knows the ins and outs of the famed Browns, reputed to be the finest professional football team ever assembled.

That's a disputed subject, of course, and no doubt Adams will get a few questions regarding it when he appears here.

President Fritz Bichsel has made it clear that this session of the Boosters club is strictly a "social" affair. There will be no business meeting held, just a program of entertainment.

District basketball coaches will gather at Youngstown South High at 8 p. m. Monday to "seed" and place the teams for the Class A sectional-district basketball tournament.

Leading teams in the contemplated "seeding" process are Girard, Youngstown Chaney, Canton McKinley, Canton South, possibly Youngstown East and even more questionable is Canton Central Catholic.

Dave Williams is again tournament director. The debates of the sectional are Feb. 28 and March 1, 5, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12. It may be necessary, Williams reports, to run the tournament on Saturday afternoon, March 5. If such is the case games will be played at 12:30, 1:45 and 3 in the afternoon with the evening session opening at 6:30.

The sectional Class B tournament will be played on March 2, 3, and 4 at South field house. One of the two regionals in this area (the other will be at Kent) will be at South on March 17, 18 and 19th.

Republican extreme which he said would match the New Deal or even try to go beyond it at unknown expense.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, Maine, was the third speaker last night. She joined Gov. Dewey in warning against extremes in either direction.

"The Democrats went to extremes for minorities in 1946," she said. "The Republicans went to the opposite extreme for other minorities. They took a backward attitude. When a political party ceases to be a party of the people, the people throw them out. That's what happened to the Democrats in 1946 and to the Republicans in 1948."

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Cub Pack 5

One hundred and fifteen cubs of Pack 5, their parents and members of the Harris class, the pack sponsors, enjoyed the annual blue and gold dinner Monday evening in the Christian church.

Harris class members, headed by Mrs. L. B. Harris, had charge of the dinner arrangements. George Huston is pack committee chairman.

Blue and gold was the theme of the table favors, and centerpieces depicted in miniature some phase of cub work or ritual. All joined in singing the blessing and Calvin Filler, packmaster gave the invocation.

Den 1 highlighted the evening with an unusual folk dance. They dressed the part with the boys impersonating girls, complete with costume. David Platt was the caller while those who swung to the tune included Bobby Mills, Richard Whitcomb, Don Sebo, Thomas Alesi, Jerry Cosgrove, Clyde Brown, Ronald Bruckner and Gary Rist. Den 1 mothers and dad are Mrs. Wilbert Hertel, Mrs. Clyde Brown and Chalmers Groves.

J. R. Stratton, Jr., district cub commissioner, emphasized the importance of cubbing activities which had their origin in 1930. (Scouting is celebrating its 39th anniversary.) Mrs. Stratton and their daughter Marilyn, also were guests.

In an effective candlelight ceremony Mr. Filler presented the following awards of merit: Den 1, Don Sebo, denner's strip and service star, Jerry Cosgrove and Ray Hertel, gold arrow and service star, Gary Rist, bobcat award, Harry Groves, webelos and three year pin, Clyde Brown, and Dick Whitcomb, service star.

Den 2, Roy Nichols, service star, Richard Heston, bobcat;

Den 3, Bob Domenicetti and Harry Garloch, webelos and two year pin, Matt Klein, bear badge and service star, Jim Pasco, Bill Schuster and Paul Pasteur, lion badge and service star, Kenneth Schweba, webelos and one year pin and Charles Long, bobcat;

Den 4, Billy Gardner service pin. The several steps in cubbing are bobcat, to wolf, bear and lion and with the webelos award.

Others honored during the evening were: Walter Beale, who received the assistant cubmaster pin; Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan Nichols, for their work as den 2 dad and mother; Frederick Lippert; Mrs. Glenn Whitcomb, awarded a certificate of approval at den mother; and Mr. Filler, a five-year pack master pin.

food any cheaper just because of what happened on the grain markets yesterday.

"There's a lot more involved than one day's market," he said. "Jack A. Benjamin, vice president of the Uhlman Grain company, said 'we're feeling the effect of surplus crops and the slowing up in grain export.'"

"Internationally," he said, "other countries appear to want to spend less dollars for food than for other things. Grain men anticipate a continuing decline of prices on the 1949 crop."

Another expert predicted that the government would have to resume buying soon because it has "bought only 52 million bushels of corn, for example, toward satisfying its export commitments of 160 million bushels."

Carl E. Boston, vice president of the Chicago board of trade, said the nation's economy could absorb the grain price decline and that the average consumer has nothing to worry about. He said it was too early to tell what effect the decline would have on other prices.

This new Elgin American compact says those three little words, "I love you," again and again for you. There can't be a girl who wouldn't be thrilled with such an exciting gift, so beautifully finished and crafted. Very Valentine!

John Fitzsimmons
Funeral Is Held

Mr. and Mrs. James I. Fitzsimmons of 1120 Short st. have returned from Anderson, Ind., where they were called by the sudden death of their son, John Fitzsimmons, who suffered a heart attack while at work at the Delco-Remy division of General Motors Corp. in that city.

Mr. Fitzsimmons was a leading authority on ignition systems and had been prominent in national engineering circles for many years. He was author of numerous articles and several handbooks in his field and was an active member in the Society of Automotive Engineers.

A resident of Edgewood for many years, he was mayor of that community and a member of its town board at the time of his death. He was a member of the First Methodist church, Fellowship lodge of Masons and the Scottish Rite. He and Mrs. Fitzsimmons also were active members of the Tourist club. They had traveled widely and only recently returned from a trip to Guatemala. During World War II he was a draft board member.

Mr. Fitzsimmons was born near East Palestine, March 3, 1887. He was a graduate of the Case School of Applied Science with a degree in electrical engineering. He became associated with the Dayton Engineering Laboratories Co. at Dayton in 1913. In 1921 he joined the General Motors research department. He went to Anderson shortly after the consolidation of the Delco and Remy interests into the local General Motors division.

Surviving besides the brother from Salem, are his widow Mrs. Edna Fitzsimmons the former Edna Johnson of Lisbon, O., one son, John Robert Fitzsimmons; one grandson John Nicholas Fitzsimmons, both of Anderson, Ind., and two sisters, Mrs. Edward Christman, Akron, and Mrs. Louise Johnson of Medina.

Funeral service was held Sunday.

chance to succeed in Romania, since he speaks the language fluently. In fact, it has enhanced his chances of getting along.

Since the government of Romania went Communist, it has gradually become a source of embarrassment for Romanians to associate with Americans. It is frowned upon by the government. After a period of time, any such association results in the Romanian in question being put under surveillance. Some are questioned extensively about their relationships with Americans.

All members of the American legation are encouraged to learn the Romanian language, if only to avoid such difficulties as described.

Many Russian civilians Buta says there are few Russian troops in Romania, except in concentrated spots. However, there are an increasing number of Russian civilians being brought into the country. Much of the industry there has been taken over by or merged with Russian owners and the Reds have been brought in to run them.

Russian influence has been noticed in other ways, he points out. For instance, the Romanian army has changed its uniforms to resemble the Russian's. The titles military ranks have also been altered to fit the Red pattern.

Buta says his living quarters are good—he has an apartment in Bucharest — and that a legation commissary solves many of the food problems.

Living space promises to be harder to find in the future. In December a rent control system was inaugurated. Romanian government officials will undoubtedly be looking after their own people and the average man or foreigner will have to wait.

When asked about clothing, Buta said he and the others at the legation get theirs through U. S. mail order houses. The cost of clothing in Romania is prohibitive and the products inferior.

A pair of shoes there cost about eight times the U. S. price and aren't as good. A shirt of inferior quality will run as high as $15 or $25, he estimated. And a suit of clothes bought here for $50 would run up to $200 in Romania.

The Romanian civilians who work in the legation get their clothes from this country too, so the jobs must be in heavy demand.

The average factory worker in Romania gets the equivalent of $22 to $26 per month. How he survives on that amount is a mystery, since a poor pair of shoes, that couldn't wear long, cost him about $10.

Buta said the people can't save any money and, indeed, can't even keep up with their daily living expenses.

Although the picture painted of Romania may seem a bit dark, Buta appears not to mind returning. He seems perfectly contented with his job and is certainly well qualified to hold it, particularly in Romania.
